A letter from the ABC Indiana/Kentucky Chairman of the Board

*Charles (Chuck) M. Henry
President, Henry Electric*

Hello and welcome to 2015.

As your chairman for this year, I am hoping to have some fun, and build on the successes of former chairs. As we go into this year, I encourage you to continue with your “Engage” programs, but ask that you combine that with our new “Coming Home” initiative.

We have many great former members who, through the recession, had to make some hard choices. By the grace of God and hard work, many of us were able to continue our membership in this great organization. Some were not so lucky.

Now that we have turned the corner, I ask that you sustaining members reach out to those who need to be part of ABC again. We all know someone who is a former member. Please contact them or say hello at a job meeting or other function. Let them know what they are missing, and how hard our staff is working to make this a better association.

In future publications, we will continually outline our achievements, and what is going on in the anti-merit shop camp. Yes, that monster is still out there, and even though not as toxic, it is still whittling away at our freedoms. Remember—we are the only construction association that is working to control Big Labor and Liberal Politics from putting our companies out of business—or making it almost impossible to work competitively and profitably.

We need you, we need them. Please reach out and “Bring Them Home”. Thank you and I am looking forward to visiting with you this year. Call or email with any thoughts or ideas. Make some money this year!!

PRESENTS:

CREATING A CULTURE OF EXCELLENCE Expecting and Getting the Best

February 5
9:00 am – 4:00 pm
5001 N. Shadeland Ave, Indianapolis, IN

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The single most important competitive advantage that any organization can have is the energy of its people. Competitors can always create services or build products – just like yours. The benefits packages that we use to attract and keep talent, from healthcare to childcare, is all duplicable. But the organizations and leaders that truly tap into the wisdom, creativity and initiative of their people will have a sustainable competitive advantage. And while the idea of holding people accountable for their actions (or lack of action) is not new – there is a new awareness of the link between accountability, employee engagement and profitability.

When an organization has a culture of accountability:

- ✓ Productivity increases
- ✓ Projects get completed
- ✓ Deadlines are met
- ✓ Employees are engaged
- ✓ Customers are satisfied
- ✓ And the bottom line improves

COURSE OUTCOMES

After completing this course participants will be able to:

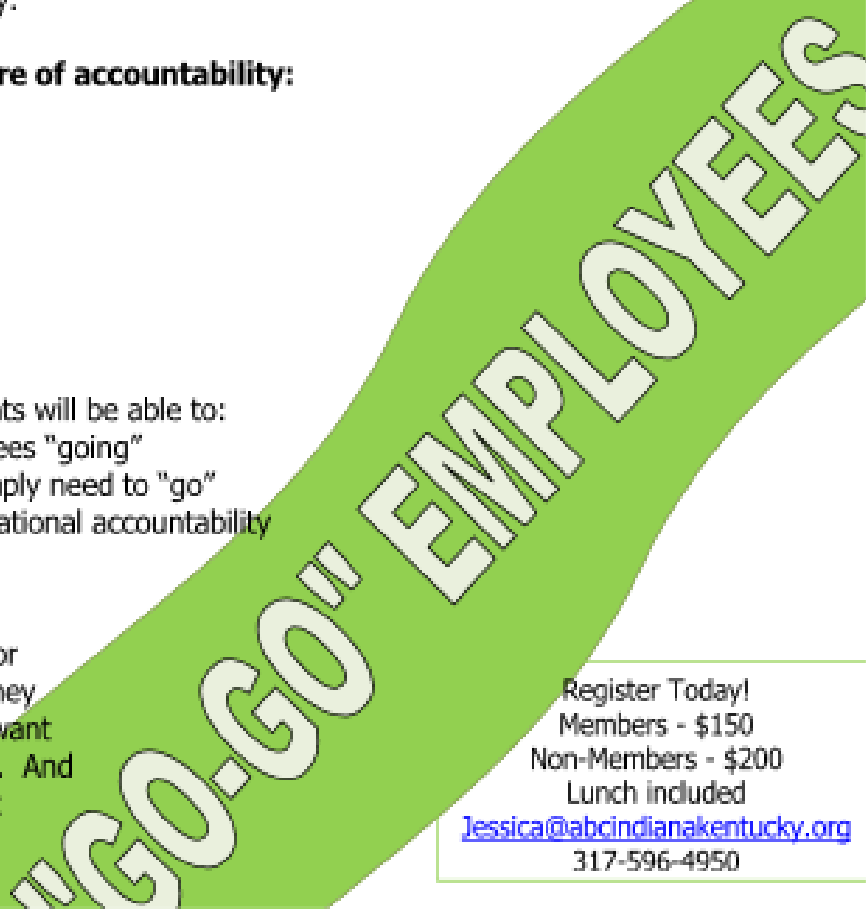

- Understand how to get employees "going"
- Identify the employees that simply need to "go"
- Set the groundwork for organizational accountability

TARGET AUDIENCE

This program is designed specifically for leaders that are looking for results. They want to get rid of the excuses. They want to move from blaming to collaboration. And they want a team that is excited about growing and contributing more.

Education Update

KENTUCKY APPRENTICESHIP TRAINING: ON THE RISE!

Colin Powell is credited with saying,
“A dream doesn’t become reality through magic;
it takes sweat, determination and hard work.”

Apprenticeship training is making a comeback this year in Louisville and Owensboro through the determination and hard work of both ABC members and ABC staff who believe in education as the means to improving employees and project quality and services.

Both traditional face-to-face instruction and the implementation of video conferencing classes in carpentry, plumbing, HVAC, and electrical trades have been implemented to achieve these ends. Additionally, ABC provides sponsorship for almost 85 Kentucky high schools, area technology centers, and youth development centers. Youth enrolled in these programs complete the NCCER Core Curriculum and Level One of a construction craft. They are construction-ready at graduation. Yet, very few find their way into ABC apprenticeship programs. Skilled and semi-skilled workers are in short supply.

Help us recruit the next generation! Get involved with your local school district and educate our youth about the career opportunities available to them through ABC’s apprenticeship program and as an employee of your business. To learn more about getting involved, contact your local ABC training site today!

WEBINAR DESCRIPTION

The health care reform law, known as the Affordable Care Act (ACA), is in full swing. Under the employer mandate, employers with 100 or more full-time employees and full-time equivalent employees must now offer full-time employees a certain level of health coverage or be subject to a penalty. Additionally, ACA's onerous information reporting requirements are in effect, which will impact employers with 50 or more full-time employees and full-time-equivalent employees, as well as employers of any size that self-insure. Join Sam Melamed from the ABC Insurance Trust and Adam Bonsky from The Contractors Plan for this informative webinar and learn more about how to comply with the complex requirements of the ACA.

SAFETY FIRST

As of Jan. 1, 2015, there is a change to what covered employers are required to report to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. Employers are now required to report all work-related fatalities within 8 hours and all in-patient hospitalizations, amputations, and losses of an eye within 24 hours of finding out about the incident.

Previously, employers were required to report all workplace fatalities and when three or more workers were hospitalized in the same incident. The updated reporting requirements have a life-saving purpose: they will enable employers and workers to prevent future injuries by identifying and eliminating the most serious workplace hazards.

Employers have three options for reporting these severe incidents to OSHA. They can call their nearest area office during normal business hours, call the 24-hour OSHA hotline at 1-800-321-OSHA (1-800-321-6742), or they will be able to report online. (Please note that the online reporting will not be available until later this month.) For more information and resources, visit OSHA's Web page on the updated reporting requirements and watch OSHA's new YouTube video, where Dr. David Michaels, assistant secretary of labor for occupational safety and health, explains the new reporting requirements.
